Yukiness is the label of eccentric wig designer Yuki Sato. Having been a fashion buyer in her home country, Japan, Yuki studied Jewellery and Craft Design and has collected numerous awards for her innovative creations.

Sato is passionate about the baroque French period for its drama and theatricality. Her eccentric wigs use a variety of construction processes such as felting and jewellery techniques. Her choice of materials is unique to wig-making and results in distinctive, one-off pieces of dramatic beauty.

The wigs have been used in theatre productions and opera and have featured at London Fashion Week catwalks, in exhibitions and window displays at leading department stores.

BY USING UNCONVENTIONAL MATERIALS MY WORK COMMUNICATES A SET OF MORAL VALUES NOT BASED AROUND RICHES AND HIGH SOCIETY BUT RATHER EQUALITY AND LOVE

'THE FABRICS I USE IN MY WORK ARE ALL UNIQUE AND CANNOT BE REPRODUCED, SO WHEN I FIND SOMETHING BEAUTIFUL, I FEEL I MUST DO IT JUSTICE AND MAKE IT INTO SOMETHING REALLY WONDERFUL'

Hetty Rose's conceptual collection of shoes and accessories are completely handmade using mainly reclaimed, recycled and vintage materials. These are primarily vintage Japanese kimono fabrics, each having different meanings shown by their size of colour and design. Hetty hand-selects the most exquisite fabrics from Japan to use as supports for shoes, creating unique footwear. The fabrics are then skillfully combined with handcrafted wooden heels, recycled leather and natural leather soles, creating modern, stylish footwear.

The multi-season range includes a number of styles, and can be made to a selection of strict kimono print fabrics. Every aspect of the development of each product is entirely handcrafted by Hetty in her workshop. By offering a unique product and personal service, founder of Hetty Rose Theatrical Shoe Services seeks to raise awareness of handcrafted footwear made in Britain.
